Mr. Hinchey is recognized in the United States and internationally as a leader in resolving significant engineering, infrastructure and energy-related disputes as an arbitrator, mediator and facilitator. Prior to his retirement from the international law firm, King & Spalding, he led the Firm's commercial contracting and construction disputes practice for 18 years. He is now a full-time arbitrator who serves on institutionally administered and ad hoc panels of arbitrators, including the ICC, AAA/ICDR, LCIA, CPR International Institute, Institute for Energy Law, Chartered Institute of Arbitration Presidential Panel, the Japan Commercial Arbitration Association and the JAMS Engineering, Construction, Energy and International Panels.

As an advocate, Mr. Hinchey has represented a broad spectrum of clients engaged in engineering, construction and infrastructure projects, including financiers, bond guarantors, surety companies, insurers, owners and developers, design professionals, contractors, vendors and equipment and material suppliers. Among his former representations are Turner Broadcasting System in all aspects of its construction programs; UPS as core counsel for its worldwide construction transactions and related dispute resolution matters; Wal-Mart, Inc., in multi-state construction litigation; and The Coca-Cola Company and Home Depot, Inc., in engineering and construction matters. He has served as lead counsel in drafting, or performing risk analyses of a variety of design build, turnkey and EPC agreements for such projects as the negotiation and drafting of design and construction agreements and the resolution of disputes for the 1996 Summer Olympic Games; the Al Udeid Air Base Fueling Facility in Qatar, Turner Field in Atlanta, the Houston Astros' Stadium, the New England Patriots Stadium, the Philadelphia

Eagles Stadium, the proposed new Tacoma Narrows Bridge, and a monorail project in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Mr. Hinchey has served as Chair of, and received the highest achievement “Cornerstone” award from, the world’s largest organization of construction lawyers, the American Bar Association’s Forum on Construction Law. He is a Fellow and has served as President of the American College of Construction Lawyers; he is an Honorary Fellow of the Canadian College of Construction Lawyers; a Fellow of the International Academy of Construction Lawyers; a Fellow of the College of Commercial Arbitrators, a Chartered Arbitrator, Fellow and Diplomate of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators; former Chair of the Atlanta Bar Association Construction Law Section and former President of the Georgia Arbitrators Forum. In addition to the JAMS Panels of Arbitrators, he has served as arbitrator on many ICC, AAA and ICDR administered arbitrations; and he is included on the CPR International Institute’s Distinguished Panels of Neutrals, including their ADR, Construction and Cross-border Panels; the Institute for Energy Law Panel, the LCIA North American Panel and the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators Presidential Panel.

Mr. Hinchey currently serves on the Advisory Board of the Institute for Transnational Arbitration; he has been a visiting lecturer to a number of colleges and universities on arbitration and dispute resolution subjects and has served on the Council of Distinguished Advisors to The Straus Institute of Dispute Resolution, Pepperdine University School of Law; he has been frequently listed in Chambers and Partners, Best Lawyers in America, U.S. Legal 500, Guide to the World’s Leading Experts in Commercial Arbitration, Superlawyers (Corporate Counsel Edition), Who’s Who in American Law, and Who’s Who in America. In 2018, he received the Albert Nelson Marquis Lifetime Achievement Award from Marquis Who’s Who, and he has been recognized as one of the top eight “Most Highly Regarded Individuals—Global” in the International Who’s Who of Construction Lawyers. He is also listed in the International Who’s Who of Commercial Arbitration.
